HISTORICAL REVERENCE

Mood: Jewelry that incorporates ancient elements – either original or 'inspired-by' details – is a great way to engage contemporary consumers, since the styles, applications and materials involved support a desire for artisanal techniques and gender-fluid designs. From coins and carvings to talismans and trinkets, ancient jewelry signatures are a wonderful vehicle for storytelling.

Colours: racing green, magenta, gunmetal, brushed gold, bronze.

Application: handmade textures, irregular outlines, intaglio, carved gems, old gemstone cuts, asymmetry, ancient talismans, faience, micromosaic, antique-style coins, draped chain, vintage reimagined.

Key pieces: vintage lockets, amulets, keepsakes, grandiose earrings, signet rings, chain & pendant, torii cuffs.

CLASSICISM

A yearning for simplicity and straightforwardness brings style back to basics. Sleek jewelry, preppy accessories, and new-heirlooms bring a touch of polish to the category.

ANONYMITY

As privacy becomes a luxury, blending into the crowd offers a sense of untraceability. Less importance on the physical form streamlines design, while a desire for privacy fosters stealth details.
